

REDS DRIVE NAZIS BACK WITH BAYONETS

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE
My old friend Grant Green was in the Record-Herald office to see me Wednesday, and it was a genuine pleasure to greet him for the first time in six or eight years.

Grant is one of those men with a heart of pure gold, and whom it is an honor to know and call friend. He lives in London, O., now, and in fact has resided there for quite a number of years. I believe Cleve Shough, for years affiliated with the W. E. Dale Furniture Store here, is a nephew of Grant.

Grant is a member of one of Fayette County's oldest pioneer families, and a family held in high regard throughout its various generations in the county.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Green, who formerly resided in the extreme northern part of the county, on the Green Road, two miles northwest of Yatesville. Both have been dead for many years.

I knew Grant many years while he lived at the old home place, and recall that he formerly wrote a great deal of meritorious poetry, and was a widely read scholar. I think he knew the entire Knights of Pythias ritual word for word, and could take any part in the degree work.

Grant owned one of the first automobiles—perhaps it was the first one—in the Yatesville neighborhood, and it is an incident connected with this auto that I wish to mention to show you the kind of a heart that is within him.

One day after being out for a drive he returned home, and was about to drive his auto into a shed when his aged mother, becoming confused over the proximity of the car, stepped in front of the auto and was painfully injured when it struck her.

Grant drove the car into the shed and never used it any more.

A surprisingly large number of men, who had been deemed a "little too old" to continue work, are beginning to show up in responsible positions at various places in the city, as the demand for workmen increases.

I notice these gray haired chaps, tickled to death to get back into the harness, are in various places of business, and doing their work surprisingly well.

I also notice more women, well along in years, are beginning to take places of younger women who have entered war work or taken other positions.

The present demand for labor apparently brings to prominence the fact that the youngsters are not the only ones who can do their work well, and the men with a few years on them are pinch hitting in a most satisfactory way.

Those men who have been excavating about the leaking water hydrant at the south corner of North Fayette and Market streets, reminds me that when Washington C. H. was just a small village, an open ditch ran down what is now Market Street and emptied into Paint Creek.

This ditch had drained through the woods in the early days, and reports indicate that it had a channel three to five feet in depth, and originally furnished the main drain for the region east of North Street for some distance.

As the village expanded the open ditch was filled in and tile drain laid to handle the surplus water. Later Market Street was opened up and the old ditch was forgotten.

BLACKOUT IS UNDOING OF TRUCK, CAR THIEF

FREMONT, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Running afoul a Fremont blackout, a carnival employee who wrecked a stolen truck was captured as he attempted to flee in an automobile he had taken in the darkness, police reported today. They said the truck, stolen from a carnival showing at Port Clinton, was smashed during last night's blackout. The driver called a wrecking company, then stole the automobile of Joseph Shanahan, who had been forced to stop when lights were extinguished. The carnival worker was apprehended at nearby Clyde, and he was held for investigation.

Civilian Meat Rationing Looms

CUT IN SUPPLY IS ORDERED TO PAVE THE WAY

Packers Are Told To Reduce
Deliveries to Retailers
About 20 Percent

ARMED FORCES COME FIRST

Cheaper Grades Are To Go For Lease-Lend Shipments To Allied Countries

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The amount of meat for civilian consumption was cut nearly 20 percent today by a government order intended to assure sufficient quantities for the armed forces and lend-lease.

A preliminary to the meat rationing program which will limit consumers to about two and a half pounds of meat by the end of the year, the order was issued to meat packers last night by the Office of Price Administration.

Effective until December 31, it specifies the amounts of beef, veal, pork, mutton and lamb that packers may distribute for civilian use. Large packers slaughtering more than 500,000 pounds quarterly were ordered to reduce beef deliveries to 80 percent of the amount distributed in the same period last year. Pork deliveries were cut 25 percent and lamb and mutton, 5 percent.

Small slaughterers were instructed to limit deliveries only to the amounts of their 1941 deliveries.

OPA's food requirements committee previously indicated veal would be cut to 80 percent of the 1941 delivery. OPA, however, explained the armed forces did not plan to consume as large quantities as expected and consequently, veal deliveries would be limited to the amount delivered in the same period last year.

The army and navy said 80 percent of the "cutter and canner" grades of beef will be taken by lend-lease.

Lard, liver, hearts and kidneys are not restricted by the order, and while canned and stuffed meats are not subject to quota restrictions, they will be affected because the meat used in their preparations is subject to restrictions.

Quota violators are liable to a year's imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, and suspension of the right to deal in meat or other rationed products.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS PERSONALLY LIABLE

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2.—(AP)—An appeals court ruling holds Ohio public officials personally responsible for damages resulting from "acts of misconduct in office."

The court, in returning yesterday probably the first such decision in the state, upheld the right of Leon K. Rowley of Columbus to sue Joseph T. Ferguson as an individual instead of in his capacity as state auditor for back pay after his discharge as an assistant examiner.

Rowley contended that he was under civil service and Ferguson had no right to dismiss him February 1, 1937. The appeals court ordered Rowley reinstated July 7, 1939.

Back from Surprise Tour, Chief Executive Says War

Lagging Behind Country

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's inspection of bustling war establishments around the edge of the nation worked out so well that he was giving earnest consideration today to another tour or two through the central and southeastern sections of the country.

He missed those areas while traveling 8,754 miles through 24 states in the last fortnight, paying surprise visits to private war plants and teeming Army, Navy and Marine bases. But he had hopes of visiting them next spring to find out at first hand what they are contributing to the war effort.

He voiced that hope late yesterday, at a press conference at which he released details of his swing around America and gave his impressions of what he had seen.

The trip was conducted with all possible secrecy. Not a line was to be published about it until Mr. Roosevelt had returned safely to Washington.

It took him into plants turning out deadly war weapons and to Army, Navy and Marine bases where men were being put into fighting trim. He saw production lines turning out endless streams of tanks, bombers, ships and ammunition.

The President got the idea, he said, that these arsenals were

NAZI U-BOAT BASE IS BLASTED BY RAF

Large Force Indicated by Loss of 17 Planes

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The RAF struck at Germany last night after a week of bad weather, blasting anew at the Nazi U-boat building center at Plensburg with a bomber force described officially as fairly heavy.

Plensburg, which turns out and repairs a large percentage of Hitler's submarines, apparently was hit even harder than on its last raid, Sept. 23.

Seventeen British planes were reported lost last night, compared with ten the night of the previous attack.

The port has been bombed six times before in an RAF campaign to weaken Nazi U-boat operations by smashing their source and bases.

Last night's operations included attacks upon Axis shipping off the coast of Holland.

JAPS KEPT ON RUN IN ISLAND JUNGLES

CHINA'S CAPITAL GREET'S WILLKIE

Hints of Attack by Jap
Plane While En Route
But Refuses Details

CHUNGKING, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Wendell Willkie arrived in Chungking this afternoon after a five-day trip from Kulsbysh, Russia, to receive the first organized public welcome ever accorded a foreign dignitary in this provisional capital of wartime China.

Approximately 10,000 representatives of various organizations were on hand to greet the personal emissary of President Roosevelt when his plane landed.

Willkie's arrival ended a period of strict secrecy concerning his whereabouts decreed by Chinese authorities for security reasons at the time he crossed the border.

His journey included stops at Urunchi (Tihwa) in Sinkiang province, Lanchow and Chengtu. Foreign correspondents were forbidden to cable news of his progress abroad until his safe arrival in Chungking.

Heading the list of notables welcoming him at the airport were members of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's cabinet; Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, chief of the staff of Allied forces in China, and U. S. Ambassador Clarence E. Gauss.

Willkie disclosed on his arrival here from Russia that at one point en route he was delayed by a Japanese plane.

All he would say of the incident was that it did not occur today and then he quipped:

"There is much more danger of being killed by the kindness of the Chinese than by enemy bullets."

PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY WCTU FOR DURATION OF THE WAR

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 2.—(AP)—The national president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union announced today the formal start of a campaign for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages for the duration of this war and such time as is necessary for demobilization after its close.

We call upon all organizations which have taken a similar position and all which have not done so but are in harmony with these sentiments to join in concerted action to bring this patriotic movement to a successful issue," said Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith in an address prepared for the opening sessions of the group's 68th annual convention.

Living Cost Stabilizer Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—While apparently ready to accept major elements of the Senate version on inflation control, the House decided today to send the legislation to a formal Senate-House conference committee for quick adjustment of phases still in controversy.

Congressional leaders predicted the bill, conferring broad powers to stop the upward spiral of living costs, would be routed to the White House before midnight, just a day past the October 1 deadline set by Mr. Roosevelt in his Sept. 7 you-do-or-I-will message to congress.

22-YEAR PEAK HIT BY HOG PRICE RISE

Dearth of Offerings Held
Largely Responsible

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A dearth of hogs here and at other cities throughout the livestock circuit today caused prices to spurt to new 22 year highs.

Hogs broke through the previous 22-year peak, $15.40 a hundred pounds in spectacular fashion. On gains ranging from 25 to 50 cents, choice types sold at $15.70 a hundred pounds. This was the highest price since October 18, 1920, when the top was $15.75.

Livestock men said there was just one specific reason for the advance, the sharpest for a single day in several months: there simply were not sufficient hogs sent to market to meet the pressing demand for pork meat.

American Undersea Raiders

(By The Associated Press)
United States submarines operating in the Far Pacific waters were officially credited today with sinking or damaging eight more Japanese ships in attacks on Japan's vital sea lanes, boosting the total of enemy ships sunk or damaged by American undersea raiders to 115.

The Navy in Washington said five Japanese ships were definitely sunk, including a large seaplane tender. Two others were probably sunk and one damaged.

The only United States loss in the actions was one fighter plane. Navy Department communique No. 137, said:

"1. On September 27 Army Liberator bombers dropped bombs on enemy ships and shore installations at Kiska. One Zero fighter was shot down. Damage to bomb installations could not be determined. All our planes returned."

"2. On the same date near the Island of Attu three Army bombers attacked a transport, escorted by a destroyer. Near misses damaged the transport which, when last seen, was stopped."

"3. During the morning of September 28 a strong force of Army heavy bombers, escorted by pursuit craft, again bombed enemy ships and buildings at Kiska. Zero fighters and anti aircraft batteries on surface vessels attempted to repel this attack. A transport and a submarine were damaged and probably sunk and five Zero fighters were shot down. One of our pursuit planes was lost."

"4. During the afternoon of September 28 Army bombers again attacked the Kiska area, strafing and bombing ships and shore facilities. Results of this attack are not known."

"5. During the same afternoon Army planes attacked an enemy transport and a submarine. Both were shot down. One of our pursuit planes was lost."

NAZI PINCER MOVE BALKED

Fighting for Volga City Now
Divided into Four Areas and Russians Firm in All

By ROGER D. GREENE

(By the Associated Press)

Russian shock troops, attacking with gun butts and bayonets, were reported driving the Germans from house after house amid the nightmare wreckage of Stalingrad today, and once again it appeared that the astonishing Soviets had warded off disaster.

It was the 39th day of siege. Soviet dispatches declared the Germans gained only 200 or 300 yards in the northwest suburbs, losing nearly a thousand dead.

The Nazi high command said new Russian assaults against the German barrier north of the city had been repulsed with a loss yesterday of 124 Soviet tanks.

Rallying to Premier Stalin's call to "stand firm," the Red Armies were pictured in official dispatches as stemming the Nazi assault in the heart of the city and scoring gains on both flanks of the beleaguered Volga metropolis.

Fresh German divisions brought from other points were reported rushing into the struggle, but the Russians said a decisive turn had not yet been reached.

Soviet accounts said the battle now raged in four main zones: Inner city, southwest, northwest suburbs, and along a 40-mile northwest corridor between the Don and Volga rivers.

By sectors, these were the major developments as related by Red Army headquarters in a mid-day communique:

Inner City—Soviet troops beat off a large-scale German attack and the invaders were "thrown back to their initial positions" with 200 killed and 10 tanks wrecked.

Southwest—Russian troops beating off the lower claw of the German pincer captured another village; the fourth in 48 hours, and killed 40 Germans.

Northwest Suburbs—Huge Nazi forces of tanks, armored cars, infantry, automatic rifleman and dive bombers struck again and again in an attempt to deepen a wedge cut into the city's upper suburbs.

"Five attacks were repelled by the Soviet troops and only after the sixth attack did the Germans succeed in advancing a little," the Soviet command said. Dispatches to the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said this furious assault gained the Germans only 200 to 300 yards.

Northwest Corridor—Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's armies attacking the German left flank dislodged the invaders from an-

NATIONAL SALES TAX IS PUT UP TO STATES

Double-levy Unlikely, Is Hint
Of Iowa Congressman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A suggestion that states might well consider giving up their sales taxes for the duration to open the way for a federal sales levy sweeping "clear across the board" came today from Senator Herring (D., Iowa).

He made the remark in an interview just before he and other members of the Senate Finance committee met for a final inspection of the new tax bill, which contains no sales tax but has a 5 percent "victory tax" on individual gross incomes over $624 a year.

Otherwise, the bill proposes steeper rates on individuals and corporations, a broadened income tax base, and sharply increased excise levies.

Compton and North Fork Of Paint Get Large Number Fingerlings

Two thousand Rock Bass were distributed in Compton and North Fork of Paint Creeks, Thursday to help replenish the supply of these important fish in those streams.

The bass were distributed at points along the stream where they will have protection until of sufficient size to attract fishermen.

The Rock Bass were fingerlings, three to four inches in length and were from the State Fish Farm at Newtown, Ohio.

The fish were distributed under direction of Frank Hard, supervisor of District No. 5, who assigned details of the distribution to Chalmers Burns, County Game Protector.

G. E. Perry, superintendent of the hatchery where the fish were propagated, assisted in the distribution.

It is expected that additional shipments of fish will be made to this county during the present year.

It is noted that the condition of all streams in the county this year has been the best in recent years, and that there has been sufficient water in practically all of the streams to carry the fish safely, so that the coming year should be an unusually good one for fishing.

A special truck equipped with pump for supply air to the tanks containing the fish, was used in the distribution here.

WORDS FIRED AT NAZIS Allies Use Propaganda, too

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We hear and have heard much of enemy propaganda. We know its various forms, the tactics employed. But we know little of our own efforts in this field, because they have developed so rapidly and exclusively in recent months. Wide World reporter Trudi McCullough gives a striking, interesting picture of what we are doing.)

By TRUDI McCULLOUGH (Wide World News Service)

New York, Oct. 2.—In big black type on a white placard, the sign stares down at the hurried young men before the typewriters.

"Will a man risk his life to hear the words I'm writing?"

In the shore wave section of the big New York broadcasting company, the offices are glassed-in. The sign can be seen from a dozen vantage points.

Most of the young men, working in their shirt sleeves, forgetting the lighted cigarettes on the ash trays, don't need to raise their eyes to the sign.

They know. Some of them—from personal experience—know that their words are bombs. Some have risked their own lives to hear the "Voice of America" which they, themselves, are now making articulate.

Blond, 33-year-old Ernst Erich Noth fled Germany in 1933. He became an author in France, writing in French.

When the Germans came there he was in hiding for a year and "a secret listener to foreign broadcasts."

Today he heads NBC's German short wave section. With all sobriety, he weighs the words he now sends to those who dare to listen as hungrily and eagerly as he did.

Prominent on the staff at CBS is another German who knows, too. Twenty-nine year old Ernst Hoffmeister is tall and ascetic looking—or perhaps just still hungry-looking. For three years he was an active member of the underground movement in Germany and escaped to Switzerland with the Gestapo at his heels.

A mainstay of the French section at NBC is easy-going, dark Georges Bernier. His French is Parisian, his English, Oxonian.

He, like Noth and Hoffmeister, has taken out citizenship papers. Before the war he was in a publishing house in Paris. When war came he was at the front as a liaison officer between French and British forces.

There are hundreds more like them—Bernier, Noth, Hoffmeister—working for the major outfits, sending their news, propaganda, and counter propaganda over short wave transmitters, preparing 1,000 different programs a week.

Each man, of course, knows the time of his broadcast. With an eye on the minute hand of the clock, he finishes his copy and walks down busy corridors to an empty studio.

As only the engineer watches from an adjacent glassed-in cubicle, the broadcaster sits down at a table in the empty room. There is a second or two of music as the program changes, the barest fraction of silence. Then: "Dear Radio Listeners, America Speaks!"

It looks like a rehearsal, not like the real thing. The broadcaster looks ineffectual sitting there talking aloud in an empty room. When he's finished he goes back to his office to start again preparing the words he speaks to the night.

That's what it always is in the case of German broadcasts—"Like talking to the night," the young men with the responsibility tell you. You can't know, you never know who or how many listen. They can't get letters out. From France you can still hear occasionally by letters or returned travelers.

Even from occupied Holland letters arrive saying, "we have heard from our neighbor upstairs." What does it mean? That the voice of Dutch broadcaster Van Boven, whose name means family were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Greenwalt.

Rev. and Mrs. Bowen spent the last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Corbin, of Columbus.

"from above," is still coming in. American stations have stopped introducing their programs with the United States national anthem.

Instead they may use a German waltz or some meaningless music. Then if the listener is interrupted by the Gestapo, he can say the music mislead him, he thought it was a German station and as a good patriot, turned it off when he found out to the contrary.

Why, if the Germans so fear and hate these broadcasts, do they let them come through? They often can and do "jam" the broadcasts with static until they are difficult, though not impossible, to hear.

The truth of American news broadcasts can make a liar of Dr. Goebbels, and that disfaith can be contagious to other Nazi promises and preachments.

But Dr. Goebbels, by months of painstaking work, can sometimes "use" British and American broadcasts more effectively than he can use his own.

If he can successfully "plant" a phony story that is picked up and relayed by the United States to the German people, then prove it wrong—he has accomplished one of his major coups. Such a case happened many months ago. In a Scandinavian paper he planted a story that the RAF had bombed and destroyed a section (which cannot be named) of a German city.

Foreign broadcasts sent it back to the German people. Next day Nazi radio and press trumpeted: "German workers you have heard the Allied claims of destruction. At your lunch hour today go to that intersection and see for yourself."

Despite their effect on the people, the foreign broadcasts are allowed to come in—sometimes clearly—because Nazi officialdom must listen.

They must hear Allied confirmation of Allied losses. If production boss Donald Nelson announces our nearness to President Roosevelt's 50,000 planes a year goal, they want to know that. If U. S. Major General Mark Clark in England promises a second front, the Nazis are all ears.

America has its counter propaganda, too. At one point when battle news was consistently bad for Germany, the attention of the people was diverted by constant talk over the German home stations about strikes in the United States.

The voice of America counter-attacked by having a United States labor leader calculate the hours lost by strikes here and the hours lost by the Gestapo in contrast their minuteness with overseeing imported labor and guarding against "slowdowns" in Germany.

Whether counterpropaganda, news, or propaganda, 15 to 20 hours a day the words broadcast against the Nazis, attempting to bring despair to the Nazi indoctrinated—news and hope to the Allied faithful.

The short wave outfits are eight in number: Columbia Broadcasting and National Broadcasting in New York, World Wide (the famous WRUL) and Westinghouse in Boston, General Electric in Schenectady, Crosley in Cincinnati and KGEI and KWID on the west coast.

All are overseen by Elmer Davis' overseas division of the Office of War Information, with Robert Sherwood as the director. All have access to information, research, and programs prepared by the government agency.

Infinitesimal in its beginnings, the government agency rapidly stepped from servicing stations with supplemental information to servicing them with programs written by the government staff.

They looked into the whole picture, discovered one station had a fine Czech program and a bad German one. By constructing tie-lines they piped in a good German program from another station and traded it for the

Garnet Speakman Is the Bride of Arthur Miller

Friends here are learning of the marriage of Miss Garnet Jane Speakman daughter of Mrs. Josephine Speakman, of New Holland, to Corp. Arthur H. Miller, son of Mr. Joseph Miller, of Washington D. C.

The single-ring ceremony took place on July 5, in the Ft. Lincoln Chapel, in Prince George's County, Md. Rev. Robert L. Whittenberg officiated at the 2 P. M. wedding.

The altar of the church was banked with ferns, gladioli, and candelabra, and beautiful nuptial music was played softly on the organ before the wedding.

Miss Mary Alice Greene, of Cleveland, was maid of honor, and wore a gown of pale blue silk jersey. Her flowers were a bouquet of pink gladioli and phalaenopsis.

Sgt. William Heffner, of Washington D. C., was best man.

The bride was radiant in her floor length gown of white organdy and lace. A coronet of seed pearls held her fingertip veil, and her only jewelry was a gold onyx bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli, English stephanotis with a center of phalaenopsis.

A graduate of New Holland High School, and Buss Business College, Columbus, Mrs. Miller holds a secretarial position for the War Department in Washington D. C. and will continue her work.

Corp. Miller is a graduate of Washington and Lee High School in Arlington, Va., and is now stationed with the Motor Center Detachment War Department, Service Group, in the District of Columbia.

President of BPW Gives Party for Executive Board

Miss Edith Wilson, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, complimented her executive board with a very lovely party Thursday evening, at the Devins Party Home.

Fall decorations were used for the affair, which was a dessert bridge and hearts party, and assembled eighteen members of that organization.

The course was served at prettily appointed tables, centered with crystal grape shaped plates holding frosted grapes. The placecards, tallies and napkins all were of a fall motif.

Following the short business meeting, bridge and hearts were gaily played, with lovely prizes in fall wrappings going to Mrs. George O'Brian in bridge, and Mrs. Nell Paul, in hearts.

Miss Wilson also presented a lovely gift to Miss Teresa Long, bride-elect of October 13.

The guests were: Mrs. Verneice Deafner, Miss Mary Sauer, Miss Clara Davis, Mrs. George O'Brian, Mrs. Nell Paul, Miss Norma Flee, Mrs. A. N. Brown, Miss Frances White, Miss Clara Belle Robinson, Miss Helen King, Miss Marie King, Miss Lorraine, Miss Helen Slavens, Miss Betty Cook, Miss Teresa Long, Miss Adah Reichenbach and Mrs. C. R. Van Zant.

Entire Campfire Groups Given Supper Party

Sixty members of the local Campfire Groups were delightfully entertained on Thursday evening, when the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary gave them a delicious supper party in the GAR Hall.

The affair acknowledged the appreciation of the work in selling poppies in the spring by the groups of young girls, assisting the ladies of the Legion.

The menu was a popular one for youthful appetites and consisted of wieners, potato chips, baked beans, ice cream and other delicacies.

Following the supper hour, Miss Claire Frances Campbell, talented pianist, played several numbers for dancing, enjoyed by the entire group.

Rotarians Plan Unusual Meeting For Their Anns

Their Anns as well as the Rotarians, are enthusiastically anticipating the next week meeting of that organization, when the Tuesday luncheon will have John W. Hauserman, of New Richmond, as the guest speaker.

The affair will be staged in the Washington Country Club, and will include a delicious luncheon menu, served and prepared by the club cuisine.

There are only a few of the noon meetings of Rotary Calendar, to which the ladies are invited, and this meeting has been planned to equal the others in interest.

Judge Hauserman, known internationally as the "Gold King" or the "First Citizen of Manila," comes to the group filled with interesting revelations of the Japanese race, with whom he had much contact during his years of living in the Philippines. A man who has climbed the ladder of success from a boy who earned a few pennies for rowing the mail skiff across the Ohio River at New Richmond, to a millionaire, now, with his vast gold and chrome holdings in the Philippines, he probably stands to lose more economically, than any other individual should Japan wrest possession of the Far Eastern Island group from the United States.

This prominent figure will bring most important details of his work with the heads of the Japanese industries, and give a thorough study of the international affairs between the Philippines and Japan.

Merrill Kaufman Honored by Party On 8th Birthday

Merrill Kaufman, handsome young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellet Kaufman, was the guest of honor at a jolly affair on Thursday afternoon when his mother invited ten boys and ten girls of his class room at Central School, to observe his eighth birthday.

The young guests were invited from four o'clock until half past five, and the affair was of extreme gaiety during the entire time. The beautiful fall day added to the pleasures, with the party staged on the lovely lawn surrounding the beautiful home on Rawling Street.

Games of every kind had been provided, and the merry making was of the keenest. Clever prizes were presented to different lucky contestants.

Hallowe'en decorations were used for the October event, and were cleverly used. Hats, whistles, candies, ice cream and cakes and other novelties were all of the 'Ghost Night' motif, and were particularly well received.

The young honor guest opened his array of very lovely gifts during the afternoon, and was thrilled to the utmost with such an elaborate assortment.

Mrs. Kaufman took moving pictures of the event, which she promised to show to the youngsters in the near future. This caused much happiness and gaiety, with many posing and doing "unusual antics" for the camera.

Mrs. W. L. O'Brien and Miss Constance Kaufman assisted during the afternoon.

Country Club Hostesses

Mrs. J. E. McLean, chairman, Mrs. Sam R. Parrett, Miss Mary Barnes and Mrs. Frank Littler, will be the committee for the Thursday luncheon party at the Washington Country Club on next week's meeting.

Enos Sparkles as Kid Cards Worry

By GAYLE TALBOT
ENROUTE WITH WORLD SERIES TEAMS, Oct. 2—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals in particular and National League in general felt that they at least had those "unbeatable" New York Yankees badly worried today as the two World Series rivals rolled toward Yankee Stadium and a resumption of hostilities tomorrow.

From the way the happy Cards were taking on over their 4-3 victory in yesterday's second game at St. Louis and the big plans they were making for taking the Yankees over the hurdles the next three days on their home grounds, anyone would have thought Billy Southworth's scrappy youngsters were at least a couple of games in front instead of merely having deadlocked the play-off at a victory apiece.

"We've got 'em plenty worried," one after another of the Red Birds chortled in the diner.

"And they're going to get worse worried every game we give it to 'em from here on out," added Mort Cooper, ace of the Cards' mound staff, who was knocked loose by the Yanks in the series opener on Wednesday. Mort apparently had forgotten all about his own misfortune in his glee at rookie Johnny Beazley's triumph over Joe McCarthy's sluggers yesterday.

Ford Frick, National League president, attached great significance to the fact that McCarthy stalked off frequently to complain of decisions in yesterday's game that dugout three times a sea-think they had got in a jab on him, the Yanks looked slightly defeated, and that he was sore as a son," Frick insisted. "When he the Yanks that would bring bewildered, the Cards declared. We then because George Kurovski's timely triple that scored the Cardinals' third run was ruled a something on his mind besides a baseball cap."

"Ordinarily Joe doesn't leave The Cards were inclined to Ernie Bonham in the eighth in-plain of decisions in yesterday's that dugout three times a sea-think they had got in a jab on him, the Yanks looked slightly defeat, and that he was sore as a son," Frick insisted. "When he the Yanks that would bring bewildered, the Cards declared. the first chance the boys got to give up.

Then "Country" connected solidly, lacing a clean double down the right foul line. Roy Cullenbine fielded it well and made a good throw to Rizzuto at second. But Phil Rizzuto let the ball trickle through his legs. That was all Slaughter needed. By the time the Yanks collected the ball, as well as themselves, Slaughter was perched on third with the winning run.

Stan Musial, another Card freshman, then came through with his first safety of the series, a hard single over center which Joe DiMaggio collared on about the second hop. Slaughter scored easily.

And that wasn't the last of Slaughter's inspiration. In the Yankees' ninth he made a great throw to save the day.

Bill Dickey, veteran Yank catcher, singled to right, and Tuck Stainback went in to run for him. Buddy Hassett delivered a deep single in Slaughter's direction, and Stainback made the mistake of trying to go to third. Slaughter whipped a long, beautiful "strike" to George Kurovski who was straddling the bag, and Stainback was well out. A moment later pinch-hitter Red Ruffing slammed a long fly to Slaughter against the wall.

Even though Slaughter got the nod over Beazley, despite the fact that the kid from Nashville, Tenn., turned in a superbly cool World Series debut and thoroughly deserved to win. The Yankees menaced him right from the start, but with the assistance of one fine double play in the fifth Johnny survived every menace until Keller caught hold of a low curve in the eighth.

Improved Lions To Take Field At Wilmington

In the last practice before meeting the Wilmington Hurricanes Friday (tonight) at Thorne Field in Wilmington, the Blue Lions Thursday afternoon were put through a short signal drill and a dummy scrimmage.

When the Lions take the field against the Hurricanes the Washington C. H. fans will see a better team than they saw last week when they played at Chillicothe—of this the coaches and uptown coaches are confident.

The Wilmington newspaper said Wednesday that "the confidence with which they (Blue Lions) rattled off their precision plays and maneuvered their offense had turned to confusion as evidenced by the indecision and lack of what the fans who followed them called 'punch'."

A "pep meeting" held before lunch Friday noon for the Washington C. H. High School students created much enthusiasm among them and many are planning to attend the game.

During the meeting last week one of the first string players said: "It always seems like a long ride back home if we lose, so there's no use riding the bus all night, let's make it a short one."

Don Harper, tackle, is not expected to see service during the game against the Hurricanes because of a leg injury received in practice Wednesday evening.

The Lion-Hurricane game will begin at 8:15 P. M. and will be preceded by the bands of the two schools marching across the field. More elaborate shows have been planned for the half in which both bands will take part. E. Fitzwater will lead the Washington C. H. High School band in their maneuvers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—New York doesn't show much outward excitement over a little thing like a World Series, but just try to get a hotel room here for the week-end. . . . And the telephone company reports a jump of 100,000 calls during the time the ball games were on in St. Louis from folks who wanted to know the score. . . . Looks as if it ought to be a great series for guys who never get anywhere on time. Most of the excitement in the opener was in that ninth inning and yesterday the big noise was in the eighth. . . . And whatever became of that idea that Cullenbine and Hassett were a couple of weak spots in the Yanks' lineup? . . . Babe Pinelli, the National League umpire, says the test of a great ball club is its behavior on the field. . . . If that's so, the Yanks and Cards must be a couple of great clubs.

Today's Guest Star
Bill Tobitt, Oakland (Calif.) Tribune: "Those colleges who took the last vestige of tradition out of football by substituting steel goal posts for wooden ones can now revert to lumber. . . . In that way two interests are served—the nation gets the steel and the customers on the winning side get splinters."

Shorts and Shells
Carrying out Mayor Fiorello (Butch) LaGuardia's orders to bear down on horse-race gambling, a few cops took over the office of a local racing wire service yesterday. When the customers began asking why the entries hadn't been sent on the wires, the only answer they got was "Ask Butch." . . . The Detroit Tigers haven't signed any players to 1943 contracts yet, preferring to wait and see what will happen before spring. And the athletes were told to take their uniforms and equipment home with them.

Lady Bowlers Humiliate Gents

The ladies of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. gave the Gents a humiliating drubbing on the bowling alleys Thursday evening as they made a comeback after dropping the opening game of the three-game match.

With the Ladies getting tougher as the match progressed, the Gents, wilted under the pressure and lost not only the last two games by substantial margins, but also the total pin count of 2059 to 1899.

Football Selections

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—(AP)—Taking the weekly football blindfold test (a guy can't always be wrong):

Minnesota-Iowa Naval: Bernie Bierman's naval cadets took Northwestern's Wildcats apart last week in their first major test, but Minnesota, apparently as tough and strong as for lo these many years, may be something else again. In any case, a flier on Minnesota.

Northwestern-Texas: Don't see how anybody can figure Northwestern is going to get any rest here. The Longhorns have scored more than 100 points in their first two games. They won't score 100 against Northwestern. Maybe they won't score at all. Still, the coin says Texas.

Harvard-Penn: There's ivy all over this one. There ought to be some football too, especially by Penn which gets this vote.

Notre Dame-Georgia Tech: The Irish got a dose of bad medicine from Wisconsin and Tech, seemingly more dangerous than in recent years, is primed to repeat the prescription. All of which makes it difficult to justify this vote of confidence in Notre Dame.

Alabama-Mississippi State: It could happen that this early-season game will decide the southeastern conference title. No guarantee with this one, Alabama.

Oregon State-California: Either California didn't play its game in the narrow squeak with St. Marys last week or else the glowing pre-season accounts of the Golden Bears' prowess represented wishful thinking. A trustful soul, we'll pick California to whip the 1941 title-holders and Rose Bowl champions.

Cubs Stopped By Chisox in City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 2—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs are getting the same sort of treatment from the White Sox in the 1942 city series that they suffered last year—they're having difficulty winning.

Defeated in the first two day-light games, the Cubs left their home park to meet their south side rivals in Comiskey Park tonight in the third encounter of the four of seven series. Last year the Sox finished the series in four straight.

The Cubs held a one-run lead going into the seventh inning yesterday but the Sox got the equalizer, put over four runs in the eighth, and finished with a 9 to 5 win over the National League club.

Q—Hello, Paul. What do you think of Saturday's game?
A—Brown—It looks like a darned tough one—maybe too tough. We'll do the best we can, and we hope to make it a whale of a contest.

Q—Planning any changes in your lineup?
A—Brown—No, we'll start the same boys who were in there against Fort Knox. Don Steinberg will be in there at left end, although Dante Lavelli and John White are ready to go. I figure Don earned the job by his showing last week, and we'll need his blocking and tackling this time.

Q—I thought Lavelli was your first choice at left end.
A—Brown—Well, he is, and he may win the job back. But Lavelli, you know, hasn't had his Big Ten baptism yet, so we'll start Steinberg. He's a rugged, hard-playing chap. Not fancy, but a good type to have in there when the going's tough.

Q—Just how tough are these Hoosiers?
A—Brown—They're plenty good. This is the first team Bo McMillin has had for which he has been able to train his kids for just one position. There was a time when his ace ball-carrier was shifted all over the backfield, but he has plenty of talent this season, and he's making good use of it.

Q—This Hillenbrand—can you stop him?
A—Brown—Frankly, I don't think Hillenbrand is the best back they have. I believe either Sarringhaus or James of Ohio is just as fast and valuable as Hillenbrand. We're worrying a lot about Cowan, the Indiana half-back who won the state sprint championship. He's a good 'un, and he can get up and go.

Q—Your boys are pretty fast, too, aren't they?
A—Brown—Well, we've worked hard toward achieving the highest possible momentum this week. We're speedier than we were last year in several spots. But I don't believe we have anyone who can match Cowan in getting there in a hurry.

Q—When will the Indiana team arrive here?
A—Brown—They're coming in late this evening, and will not work

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2—(AP)—Have you been wondering, as we have, just how Ohio State's youthful Bucks will fare against Indiana's Hoosier-Hot-Shots in Saturday's opening Big Ten grid game?

Well, pull up a chair while we interview Paul E. Brown, coach of the Ohioans—and perhaps he will give us an idea.

Q—Hello, Paul. What do you think of Saturday's game?
A—Brown—It looks like a darned tough one—maybe too tough. We'll do the best we can, and we hope to make it a whale of a contest.

together before the game. I guess they are working on some new stuff out home this afternoon, and don't want to give us a look at it.

Q—You have some new stuff, too, haven't you?
A—Brown—Yeh, but we don't talk about that.

Q—Who is going to win the ball game?
A—Brown—Well, it looks like a tough one. Fritz Mackey, who scouted Indiana against Butler, feels that we have an outside chance, but not a good one. The breaks will have a lot to do with it. We'll be outweighed a few pounds per man, but that won't make much difference. We've done everything we can to prepare for this one, and we'll not feel badly if we lose it. We'll do our best, and that's all anyone can do. But you can look for one whale of a game—I'll promise you that.

Q—Who is going to win the ball game?
A—Brown—Well, it looks like a tough one. Fritz Mackey, who scouted Indiana against Butler, feels that we have an outside chance, but not a good one. The breaks will have a lot to do with it. We'll be outweighed a few pounds per man, but that won't make much difference. We've done everything we can to prepare for this one, and we'll not feel badly if we lose it. We'll do our best, and that's all anyone can do. But you can look for one whale of a game—I'll promise you that.

You and I—thanks, Paul, and good luck!
A—Brown—We'll need it!

Q—You have some new stuff, too, haven't you?
A—Brown—Yeh, but we don't talk about that.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(P)—Wheat prices fell as much as a cent a bushel at one time today as a result of selling inspired by trade uncertainty as to the final wording of price control legislation being considered by a conference committee in Congress. The market rallied later, however, but displayed nervousness because traders were unwilling to take definite action until they knew what provisions the legislation would make for increasing government loan rates on basic crops. Meanwhile, with flour and milling trade quiet, there was little commercial activity in the market although some mill buying was reported on the rally.

KEY COLLECTION IN FINAL WHIRL HERE SATURDAY

Boy Scouts To Make Rounds
Of Business Section as School Piles Grow

To make assurance doubly sure that Uncle Sam will get all of the old and discarded flat keys in Washington C. H. and Fayette County, Maynard Craig, chairman of the many-sided salvage campaign here, said Friday that Boy Scouts would make the rounds of the city's business district Saturday morning to collect any keys that might still be lying around.

The Scout clean-up has been placed in the hands of Harold Laymon, the field Scout executive here, Craig said adding that he was not familiar with the details of the plans for the collection. However, he declared, he assumed that the Scouts would be assigned to separate sections so their efforts would not overlap. He expressed the hope, too, that businessmen and store clerks would not become impatient at being bothered by the boys for, he explained, the Scouts are taking their part of the war effort "very seriously" and are "unusually anxious" to do their good deeds well. In view of that spirit, he pointed out, it might be that some of them would be inclined to check and double check which conceivably could lead to several calls at the same places.

Meanwhile, throughout the day keys and more keys were being piled up in the schools all over the city and county by the children.

The key collection has been made a wartime job for the youngsters and, Craig said, they had been going about it with enthusiasm that was an "inspiration."

While the key collection by the school children originally had been planned for concentration in the one hour Wednesday, from 6 P. M. to 7 P. M., Craig said they could not be restrained and that many of them "got the jump" on the plan by making calls in their neighborhoods ahead of time. But there were no reports of irritation from householders it was said who fell in with their campaign heartily and helpfully.

Thursday, the children were bringing their pockets full of keys to their teachers who, in turn, were handing them in to the custodian in each school. By Friday afternoon, it was hoped that all would be in one big pile at the high school building here. The work in the county schools was expected to progress a little slower but that all would be in early next week.

Asked to make an estimate on the number of pounds of keys that would be collected in the county, Craig threw up his hands and with a laugh said he "couldn't even make a guess." Then, as an afterthought, he said he "wouldn't be surprised if they brought in 20,000 or more." Just how serious that last statement was remained uncertain but he didn't smile when he made it.

The flat keys are wanted for the brass and nickel in the metal alloy of which they are made. And the nickel and brass are needed in the manufacture of guns for America's fighting men. Because there is a shortage of these metals, it was explained, the keys will be processed to extract them from the alloy.

BUSIEST SEASON AT PLANT HERE

M. Hamm Company Prepares
For Annual Rush Due to Wheat Sowing

The busiest season of the year for the M. Hamm Company is getting under way, and for the next two weeks or more the plant will be the scene of unusual activity.

The work of hauling fertilizer throughout this part of Ohio, by truck, has already started, and the peak will be reached during the coming week, or possible week after next, as the wheat sowing is pushed throughout the community.

In addition to the long loading platforms for trucks, shipments by carload are being made from the big plant.

A priority has been placed upon fertilizer containing nitrogen, as this element is vital for the manufacture of munitions.

Names of the state speakers are to be announced as soon as confirmation of their coming is assured.

R. M. Winegardner, chairman of the Fayette County Democratic Committee, will preside.

NOT ENOUGH OLDER MEN TO EASE LABOR SQUEEZE

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The census Bureau reported today after a special survey that "the pressure on the nation's manpower during the war cannot be materially reduced from the supply of older men." When the 1940 count was taken, the Bureau reported, there were only 1,300,000 men over 45 who were unemployed and able to work. Approximately 700,000 of them were 65 and older. Many of the older men already have taken jobs, the Bureau said.

TO GIVE PAGEANT AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Mary Elizabeth Wood
To Direct Play

A rally day pageant entitled "The Things of God's" will be presented during the Sunday School hour at First Baptist Church Sunday morning. The play features a rally day postcard which comes to the desk of a business man, is discarded to the wastebasket unread as he turns his attention to the more material business of the day. However, in spite of his seeming lack of interest, the postcard lingers in his mind, speaking from the wastebasket to his neglected conscience. It thus presents a chain of daydreams out of the past in which he catches the larger vision of personal responsibility revealed by Christ and accepts his responsibility as a steward of "the things that are of God's."

The pageant is directed by Miss Mary Elizabeth Wood and the cast of characters are selected from various parts of the Church school. The pageant is especially fitting as it will dramatize the presenting of the offerings for the "heat fund" which is an annual custom at the First Baptist Church.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Women's Army Auxiliary Corps officials refused comment today concerning two WAACs returned here after they were taken into custody by Fort Leavenworth, Kan., military police for being AWOL.

The pair picked up at Atchison, was placed on a train for Des Moines Tuesday night.

CARETAKERS FOR ROADSIDE PARKS

Only One Park in County
Not Given Attention
By Supervisor

Three of the four roadside parks in Fayette County now have caretakers who keep the parks free of rubbish and look after them generally.

The work is a part-time job, and the caretakers devote sufficient time to the parks to keep them in proper condition.

The small park along Route 70 at Wabash Creek or intersection of the New Martinsburg road, is the only one in the county without a regular caretaker, so this is visited at frequent intervals by members of the State Highway crew in the county.

Jasper Yeoman is caretaker of the park on U. S. 22 at the Fairgrounds; Charles Murry, of the one on U. S. 35 near West Lancaster, and Charles Lininger of the one on U. S. 22 at Compton Creek, east of Johnson's Crossing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorn went to Tucson some eight or ten months ago for Mr. Dorn's health. For many years Dorn operated a store at Madison Mills, and is not only well known in that community but in this city and southern Madison County.

RESURFACING OF PART OF U. S. 22 IS NEAR AT HAND

Old Covered Bridge Also Included in Program
This Fall

Work of resurfacing that part of the New Holland road (U. S. 22) between Johnson's Crossing and the Pickaway County line in New Holland, will be started Saturday, if material arrives, Walter L. Stambaugh, State Highway Superintendent for Fayette County said Friday.

When the work is started, a detour will be put into effect over the White Road at Johnson's Crossing, and the road connecting the White Road with New Holland, so that the resurfacing may proceed without interruption.

Plans call for using 100 pounds of stone in the square yard, which will mean a surface layer 2 to 2 1/2 inches in thickness, and place the road in the best condition it has been in many years.

Stambaugh estimates that six or seven days of good weather will be sufficient to complete the resurfacing work.

Plans are also being made to replace the double covered bridge over North Fork of Paint Creek, west of New Holland, with the steel structure which formerly spanned Deer Creek on the CCC highway just east of Mt. Sterling, and this work may start within the next two weeks, under present plans. At present the bridge crew is

THE OFFICE WITHOUT CREDIT
INQUIRIES OF FRIENDS OR EMPLOYER

Most women prefer to discuss their financial problems with another woman. For that reason, we have just opened our new Employed Women's Financial Department.

Special Women's Department
This new department is for the exclusive use of employed women. You may discuss your money needs with a business woman and she will advise you as to the most efficient solution. This is the ideal means of paying past-due bills and charge accounts, and of obtaining extra money for emergencies and unplanned-for expenses.

Money in One Trip
This department is featuring our new ONE TRIP SIGNATURE LOAN PLAN. Employed women, single or married, may take care of their financial needs without a second trip to this office. It saves time, tires and gasoline or the necessity of riding already over-crowded transportation facilities more than once. It's quick. It's private—as only your signature is required.

How this Plan Works
Just do this: Call this office, ask for the Women's Financial Service Department and say, "I would like to secure a One Trip Signature Loan. Ask a few questions and tell us when you will call for the money. We will make all arrangements and be ready to complete the loan when you stop. This may be during your lunch hour or whenever convenient. Payments arranged to fit your budget.
